$160 for this?

By Overkill0084

Ordered Used - very good condition and that's what I got. No issues with vendor.

That being said: what a rip off. Regardless of type, new or used or condition, these things are going for $160+ and they are a sad case. It's soft cover for starters. For a $160+ textbook, one expects a hard bound book. Heck, my $80 Statistics book was hardbound. This thing is the softest of the soft cover books I've purchased for college. It's built like a $12.99 bargain bin book at the local bookseller. Handle with care because this thing will wear badly. If hardbound was too much to ask for, a heavier grade of card stock is in order considering the life that textbooks lead. The paper used for the pages is that thin but seemingly durable paper we have all come to expect in a modern textbook. I'm sure the content will be fine. It's simply that this book is poor value for money.
