Navy SEAL Brant "Bronco" Adams adores women but never lets himself get too close to any one of them-until he meets sweet, classy Rebecca McDougal.

Rebecca is the wife of Mad Max, Brant's commanding officer and safely off-limits-until she confesses that she's desperate to escape her nightmare of a marriage and that Max isn't the upstanding commander they all think.

Emboldened to protect her, Brant skids head-long into Mad Max's plot to do him in. Suddenly, the former playboy will assume any risk to give him and Rebecca hope for a future of their own.

Needs some work on characterizations

By Peg Fandrich

Have you ever researched the requirements needed to become a nurse? Someone as smart as your Commander would have known it takes lots of smarts plus a strong character to become a nurse. If you intended to portray him as corrupted fine that doesn't necessarily mean he has suddenly lost his intelligence. Seeing her as a possession could mean she had value because of her accomplishments. Also, honor and integrity seem to be a n important part of what makes teams work well. Having her betray her wedding vows without agonizing about her own behavior weakens her character. Did you intend to portray your characters as people without integrity? Please spend a little time researching addictions.

Too stupid for words

By Dianne

Didn't finish. What a shame. I love my SEALS but this guy and Rebecca are just stupid. An emotionally abusive husband and these two still secretly meet and OMG, our hero spends the night even though he sees abusive,crazy husband in front of her apt. ?????What? Just too much. I gave up
